Overview

Bendigo Funeral Bond – a thoughtful and practical legacy

The Bendigo Funeral Bond is a capital guaranteed investment plan designed solely to accumulate funds to finance the cost of your funeral. Peace of mind and consideration for family and friends are two good reasons why many Australians plan ahead to meet the cost of funeral expenses. They see it as a sensible and responsible way of leaving everything in order so the financial burden does not fall on those they care about. It removes the financial concerns for family and friends and gives them the time to concentrate on supporting each other, rather than worrying about funeral expenses.

Importantly, as your investment in the Bendigo Funeral Bond is made solely for the purpose of meeting your future funeral expenses, your account balance cannot be withdrawn prior to death and must be applied towards the payment of your funeral. This means there's no chance your plans and good intentions can be compromised by the demands of everyday living expenses. There may also be financial planning advantages associated with investing in the Bendigo Funeral Bond, including taxation and pension considerations.

All Bonds issued on the basis of this Disclosure Document are eligible for special taxation arrangements which have been in place since 1 January 2003. See page 12 for details.

We recommend that you consult your financial adviser prior to investing in the Bendigo Funeral Bond.

We also recommend that you tell your family or the executor appointed under your Will about your investment in the Bendigo Funeral Bond so they are aware of your arrangements.

Australian Friendly Society – service, security and performance

Australian Friendly Society has been caring for the financial needs of Australians since it was first registered on 28 April 1969. It is a friendly society for the purposes of the Life Insurance Act 1995 and retains the historical friendly society philosophy of service and community concern, while encouraging the traditional values of thrift, self-help and fellowship.

Today Australian Friendly Society is associated with Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Limited ("Bendigo and Adelaide Bank") ABN 11 068 049 178 AFSL No. 237879 and its related entities (collectively the "Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Group"). Bendigo and Adelaide Bank is a regionally based bank and well recognised for its innovative involvement in the development of Community Bank[®] branches throughout Australia.

The Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Group includes the wholly owned subsidiary Sandhurst Trustees Limited ("Sandhurst Trustees") ABN 16 004 030 737 AFSL No. 237906. Through contractual arrangements, the Society outsources administration services to Sandhurst Trustees and also uses the treasury services of Bendigo and Adelaide Bank for some of its asset management.

As with any investment there are inherent risks in investing into the Bond and these risks, including market and security specific risk, are discussed in this Disclosure Document. For this reason, neither the repayment of capital invested, nor the investment performance of the Bond, is guaranteed by Sandhurst Trustees, Bendigo and Adelaide Bank or any other entity in the Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Group or any of their officers, employees or agents. Importantly, a contribution into the Bond is not a deposit or other liability of Bendigo and Adelaide Bank, Sandhurst Trustees or any other entity in the Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Group. However, the Bond is supported by a capital guarantee from the Society. See page 13 for details.

Consents

The Society's actuarial advisers Mercer Consulting (Australia) Pty Ltd, its legal advisers TurksLegal, its auditors Richmond Sinnott & Delahunty, AIA Australia Limited ("AIA Australia") ABN 79 004 837 861 AFSL 230043, Sandhurst Trustees and Bendigo and Adelaide Bank have given, and have not, before the date of the Disclosure Document, withdrawn their consent to be named in the document. Each of these parties has reviewed this Disclosure Document in relation to statements contained herein concerning their opinions, advice and involvement with the Fund and has consented to the context and form in which those opinions, advice and statements appear. None of the consenting parties have authorised or caused the issue of this Disclosure Document.

How your Bond works

The Bendigo Funeral Bond is simple and flexible. It allows you to save for the cost of future funeral expenses, either progressively or with a single lump sum contribution. You have the option of individual or joint ownership, and you can also assign ownership of the Bond to a funeral director as part of a pre-paid funeral.

Under the Fund Rules, once your application is accepted, you become a member of the Fund and of the Australian Friendly Society.

Making a contribution

You can contribute to the Bendigo Funeral Bond in two ways:

A - $500 minimum initial contribution

You can start with an initial contribution of at least $500 plus a 2.00% contribution fee and make further contributions of at least $500 plus a 2.00% contribution fee, whenever you wish, until you reach your chosen maximum amount.

B - Regular savings plan

You can make regular contributions under the regular savings plan. This plan allows you to contribute over a time frame that suits you by contributing at least $42 plus a 2.00% contribution fee per month. Your payments can be via direct debit from your financial institution, until you have reached the nominated maximum amount which should also be stated on the direct debit request (refer step 7 of the application form).

Note that contribution fees are not payable for Bonds assigned to Victorian funeral directors. Refer to "Fees and other costs" on page 11.

Contribution limits

Recipients of an age pension, a service pension or any other means-tested Government benefit need to consider the contribution limit which applies to a Bond that enjoys an income and asset test exemption and which has not been assigned to a funeral director in conjunction with a pre-paid funeral. See page 12 for details.

Additional contributions

Each additional contribution must be accompanied by a completed additional contribution form or a letter signed and dated by you (or a funeral director, if assigned). The letter must state your name, Member Number, current address and amount to be contributed. Additional contribution forms can be obtained from the Society website www.australianfriendlysociety.com.au or at any Bendigo Bank branch or by calling the Society on 1800 803 173.

Flexible ownership option

You can choose between individual or joint ownership of your Bond.

Individual ownership

Couples can each own an individual Bond. The advantage of individual ownership is that each person can invest up to the nominated maximum amount with both parties separately covered for their own funeral expenses.

Joint ownership

Bonds may be jointly owned by any two people. However only one funeral may be funded under joint ownership. Immediately upon the death of a joint member, the surviving member must elect in writing, whether or not the Bond is to be redeemed to cover the funeral expenses of the deceased or continue for the benefit of the surviving member. If no election is made, the Bond will be redeemed to cover the funeral expenses of the deceased member (with any balance paid to their estate).

A Bond opened under joint ownership is still subject to the contribution limit for income and asset test exemption purposes, unless assigned to a funeral director (refer page 12). Joint applicants wishing to invest above the contribution limit may wish to consider opening individual Bonds, however applicants should seek independent advice.

Assigning your Bond to a funeral director

Ownership of your Bond may be assigned to a funeral director of your choice as part of a pre-paid funeral. It is important to note that assignment of your Bond transfers complete ownership of the Bond to the funeral director. The entire accumulated benefits will be paid to the funeral director following your death upon receipt of evidence from the funeral director that the funeral has been carried out. Members under 16 years of age are unable to assign their Bond. See page 9 for details on investing in a pre-paid funeral.

Changing funeral directors

You can re-assign your Bond at any time, subject to the agreement of the original funeral director. A transfer of assignment form must be completed by you, the original funeral director and the new funeral director. The change of assignment will become effective once all documents have been received by the Society.

Claiming a benefit payment

Once funds have been deposited into your Bendigo Funeral Bond they cannot be withdrawn prior to death (with the exception of the 30 day cooling-off period, see below). If your Bond is not assigned to a funeral director, the Bond benefits will be paid to your estate following your death. Alternatively, your estate can direct us to pay the Bond benefits to your funeral director following your death. Any residual Bond benefits after paying the funeral director will be paid to your estate.

Benefits will be paid upon production of satisfactory documentation that your funeral has been carried out. Benefits will usually be paid within seven days of receipt of all necessary documentation.

Your executor or legal personal representative of your estate should contact AFS Client Services to confirm the current documentation requirements.

How a benefit payment is calculated

Benefit payments are calculated using the member's account balance as at the date of death, which comprises contributions made by the member and all declared and accumulated bonuses, together with any final bonus. The final bonus is calculated by applying the interim bonus rate pro-rata, between the last declared bonus and the date on which the benefit is paid. A special termination bonus may also be paid at this time.

Minimum age

Applications will not be accepted from or on behalf of children under 10 years of age. Applicants aged 10 to 16 years must obtain the written consent of a parent or legal guardian before being admitted as a member of the Fund.

Cooling-off period

A 30 day cooling-off period applies to initial contributions made into the Bendigo Funeral Bond. During this period, you have the right to cancel your Bond and have it repaid in full. This period starts from the earlier of:

- the time you receive confirmation that your initial contribution has been accepted; or
- five business days after your initial application monies are received by the Society.

The cooling-off period will end if you have exercised a right in relation to the Bond, for example, an assignment or a claim. If you wish to cancel your Bond within the 30 day cooling-off period, you will need to write to the Society stating this intention. You will then be sent a refund for the value of your Bond.

Bonuses

Your annual bonus

In determining whether or not to declare a bonus and the bonus rate to be declared, Australian Friendly Society considers the investment returns achieved during the year, as well as the advice of the Society's Actuary. The actual bonus declared is calculated after the deduction of Fund fees, charges (including tax) and any solvency reserves required by law. If a bonus is declared, it is allocated to each member's account as at 30 June and becomes part of the total investment for the calculation of future bonuses. The bonus is guaranteed once declared.

A statement showing your annual bonus and current account balance will be sent to you after 30 June each year, generally within three months. If you have assigned your Bond, the statement will be sent to your funeral director.

You can obtain updated information about the performance history of the Bendigo Funeral Bond by contacting AFS Client Services or visiting our website www.australianfriendlyociety.com.au

Interim bonus rate

An interim bonus rate is also declared. If a claim is made during the following financial year, the interim bonus rate is applied from 1 July to the date on which the benefit is paid.

Termination bonus

The termination bonus is payable in addition to normal benefits at the date of death. It is set each year based on the level of the retained surplus in the Fund following the declaration of bonus. Due to changes to the income tax treatment of funeral policies issued from 1 January 2003, the Society pays tax on income on those policies, and expects to recover this tax when benefits are paid. Tax so recovered will be included in the termination bonus.

Difference bonus

If a claim is made after 30 June but before the annual bonus rate is declared, the difference between the interim bonus rate paid and the declared annual bonus rate will be paid to your estate or assigned funeral director, once calculated.

Generally the difference bonus is paid in the month of October. Please note that past performance cannot be taken as a guide to future returns. The future bonus rates for the Fund are not guaranteed and may be subject to fluctuations.

Bendigo Funeral Bond Travel Protection Plan

What is the Travel Protection Plan?

The Travel Protection Plan ("the Plan") is an optional benefit that covers the transportation cost in the event of your death in Australia, 70kms or further from your residential address. The Plan covers the cost of transportation of your remains from the place of death to the chosen funeral home, up to a maximum of $3,000. The funeral director must operate within 70kms of your residential address.

The distributor of the Plan

The Plan is distributed by Australian Friendly Society of The Bendigo Centre, Bendigo VIC 3550, Freecall 1800 803 173, www.australianfriendlyociety.com.au

The issuer of the Plan

The Plan is issued by AIA Australia Limited ("AIA Australia") ABN 79 004 837 861 AFSL 230043 of 553 St Kilda Road, Melbourne VIC 3004, 1800 333 613, www.aia.com.au

The Plan will be written in the AIA Australia Statutory Fund No. 1. This is a non-participating policy and the Plan does not participate in the distribution of any surplus of the AIA Australia Statutory Fund No. 1.

What transportation costs are covered?

In the event of your death, the transportation costs covered under the Plan include the following:

- funeral director's transfer fee;
- container for transporting (excluding casket or coffin);
- necessary documentation associated with transporting your remains;
- air freight if necessary; and
- mortuary service.

Benefit payment

If your Bendigo Funeral Bond is assigned to a funeral director, the benefit of up to $3,000 under the Travel Protection Plan will be paid directly to your funeral director. However, if your Bendigo Funeral Bond is not assigned to a funeral director, the benefit will be paid to your estate.

What are the application conditions?

The Plan is only available with the Bendigo Funeral Bond.

A new purchaser of the Bendigo Funeral Bond has 3 months following the commencement date of their Bendigo Funeral Bond to apply for the Plan. The Plan is available to a single life insured (under an individually owned Bond) or joint lives insured (under a jointly owned Bond).

The benefit under the Plan, in the instance of joint lives insured, will be paid on the death of either one of the lives insured. Although joint lives insured are covered under this Plan, only one benefit is payable under this Plan.

Should the surviving life insured decide to apply the Bendigo Funeral Bond proceeds to the funeral of the deceased life insured, then a claim under the Plan can be made, provided that the death occurred 70kms or further from the deceased's residential address.

The surviving life insured must elect in writing, within 14 days from the date of death, whether or not the Bendigo Funeral Bond is to be redeemed to cover the funeral expenses of the deceased or continue for the benefit of the surviving life insured. The Plan terminates when the Funeral Bond proceeds are paid out, even if no claim has been paid under the Plan.

Eligibility

You must be a permanent Australian resident aged 18 to 84 years to be eligible to apply for the Plan.

How to make a claim

To make a claim or to discuss any queries you have about a claim, you can contact AIA Australia by:

Phone 1800 333 613

Email au.retail.claims@aia.com

Writing Claims Administration Team

AIA Australia Limited

PO Box 6111

St Kilda Road Central VIC 8008

To make a claim, AIA Australia requires notice and supporting medical evidence within 30 days of the life insured's death or as soon after that as is reasonably possible.

AIA Australia may request further information to assess the claim, including but not limited to medical information or information about whether eligible transportation costs were incurred. You, and people involved in executing or administering your estate, should keep copies of any documents that may be required to support a claim. Any costs associated with the completion of the initial claim form must be borne by your estate.

What is the cost of the Travel Protection Plan?

The cost of the Plan is $150 per Plan for both individual and joint cover. Premiums are not generally tax deductible. AFS receives remuneration from AIA Australia of $30 per Plan. You should seek independent taxation advice about this product.

If you are contributing to the Bendigo Funeral Bond under the regular savings plan and wish to apply for the Plan, you will need to send to the Society a separate cheque to cover the cost of the Plan.

Cooling-off period

There is a 30-day cooling-off period applying to the Plan. Within this period, you may cancel your Plan and receive a full refund of the premium paid. This 30-day period starts from the earlier of:

- the time you receive confirmation that your application has been accepted; or
- five business days after your premium has been received by the Australian Friendly Society.

You will lose the right to return your Plan within the cooling-off period when you first exercise any right or power you have under the terms of your Plan, for example, making a claim.

The Plan terminates if you cancel your Bendigo Funeral Bond within the 30-day cooling-off period applicable to it (see page 4).

If you wish to cancel the plan within the 30-day cooling off period, you will need to write to the Society stating this intention. You will then be sent a refund of the Plan premium.

Exclusion(s)

The Plan does not cover death of a life insured from suicide in the first 13 months from the commencement of the Plan.

Your Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into a contract of insurance with an insurer, you have a duty under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984, to disclose to the insurer every matter that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, which is relevant to the insurer's decision whether to accept the risk of the insurance and, if so, on what terms.

You have the same duty to disclose those matters to the insurer before you renew, extend, vary or reinstate a contract of life insurance.

Your duty however does not require disclosure of a matter:

- that diminishes the risk to be undertaken by AIA Australia;
- that is of common knowledge;
- that AIA Australia knows or, in the ordinary course of its business, ought to know;
- as to which compliance with your duty is waived by the insurer.

Non-Disclosure

If you fail to comply with your duty of disclosure and the insurer would not have entered into the contract on any terms if the failure had not occurred, the insurer may avoid the contract within three years of entering into it. If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, the insurer may avoid the contract at any time from its inception. An insurer who is entitled to avoid a contract of insurance may, within three years of entering into it, elect not to avoid it, but to reduce the sum insured in accordance with a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had disclosed all relevant matters to the insurer.

Investment strategy and performance

Allowable portfolio investment ranges

The investments of the Fund will be managed within the broad asset classes and maximum and minimum investment ranges shown in the table.

Authorised investments	Allocation range
Cash and cash equivalents, Bank Accepted Bills, Term Deposits, Negotiable Certificates of Deposit and Government Securities	70% - 100%
Equities	0% - 10%
Other Authorised Investments	0% - 20%

Investment strategy and asset allocation

The Fund may invest in a range of assets as detailed in the Fund Rules.

The Fund invests the majority of its assets in low risk income producing investments with the balance invested in selected growth investments. This aims to limit the Fund's exposure to risk, whilst retaining the opportunity to have a small exposure to growth assets to combat the effects of inflation.

You should be aware that growth and income investments can be subject to market or security specific risk. Market risk is where unexpected market conditions can have a negative impact on the return of all investments in a particular market, such as a sudden decline in share values or a sudden decline or general rise in interest rates.

Security specific risk is a risk that can affect the value of a specific security, such as the fall in profit performance which can impact on share prices or a rise in interest rates which can affect the value of debt securities.

Investing in a pre-paid funeral

Investing in a pre-paid funeral may assist in some of the decisions your family and loved ones will have to make concerning your funeral arrangements.

What is a pre-paid funeral?

A pre-paid funeral is a formal contractual arrangement between you and a funeral director of your choice. You specify and pay in advance, by assigning the Bond to the funeral director, the type of funeral you want and the funeral director guarantees to provide the agreed services in the future. This ensures that your wishes will be carried out exactly as arranged.

You're in control of the costs

Planning and pre-paying a funeral makes good financial sense. Funeral costs are significant and like most things, they continue to rise over time. A key advantage of a pre-paid funeral is that it puts you in control. You pay for the services at today's price and no matter how much funeral costs rise in the future, this will not impact you or your estate.

If accumulated benefits exceed the amount needed to carry out the agreed services, some contracts with funeral directors may allow for the excess benefit to be paid to your estate. However, others may allow the funeral director to retain the excess benefit. We recommend that you check the conditions concerning this issue in any pre-paid funeral contract before you sign it.

The Bendigo Funeral Bond does not restrict the types of funeral, burial or cremation services that are eligible for a benefit payment.

Safeguarding your investment

To fully safeguard the money you set aside as a pre-payment for your funeral, it is recommended that it be held independently of the funeral director. The Bendigo Funeral Bond is an ideal way to do this, as the investment is not available to the funeral director until the contracted services are completed.

All you need to do is establish the Bond in your name initially and assign ownership to your chosen funeral director. You must however discuss the details of your required funeral services with the funeral director first, to ensure sufficient funds are set aside in the Bond.

Assigning the Bond is a simple procedure that only requires you and the funeral director to complete the assignment instructions on the application form in this Disclosure Document. Under current taxation legislation, assigning a Bendigo Funeral Bond will not cause you to incur any capital gains tax or other tax liabilities.

Assignment of your Bond to your chosen funeral director is only possible when you have entered into a contract for the provision of your funeral service.

A final word about pre-paid funeral arrangements

When you choose a funeral director, it is important to select a reputable professional, so you can feel confident that the services on the day will be as you want them to be.

Neither Australian Friendly Society, AIA Australia, Sandhurst Trustees, Bendigo and Adelaide Bank or any other entity in the Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Group or any of their officers, employees or agents endorse any funeral director or their services, nor accept any liability for the conduct of the funeral director. Arrangements between you and a funeral director are private.

Fees and other costs

This table shows the current fees and other costs that you may be charged. You should read all of the information about fees and costs as it is important to understand their impact on your Bond. All fees and other costs set out in the below table are expressed inclusive of Goods and Services Tax ("GST").

Management fee Are the fees and costs for operating the Fund. They include administration and other fees charged by the Society, distribution costs and other expenses such as legal, accounting and audit fees, computer, printing, stationery, advertising and other operational expenses, including investment costs.	1.75%p.a.*	Calculated on the average daily balance of the Fund and paid monthly from the Fund For example: Balance of Funeral Bond = $5,000 Fee Total for the full year = $87.50
* Under the Fund Rules, the Society is able to charge a maximum annual management fee of up to 3.00% p.a. plus GST on the average daily balance of the Fund to meet the costs of managing the Fund. 60 Days notice will be given to investors prior to any changes.
^ There is no contribution fee payable on Bonds assigned to Victorian funeral directors. Funeral directors operating in Victoria are regulated under the Funerals Act 2006 (VIC) and are not paid an ongoing or upfront commission. Marketing support may, however, be made available to them by the Society.

Commissions

The Society may pay to its distributors or to licensed/authorised financial advisers (which may include financial advisers within the Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Group) an upfront or ongoing commission.

Any upfront or ongoing commission paid by the Society is not an extra amount paid by the member or from the Fund. The payment and terms of payment of any commissions are entirely within the discretion and at the expense of the Society.

Typically, the Society pays up to:

- 2.00% plus GST up front commission on initial and additional contributions (contribution fee); and
- 0.25% p.a. plus GST ongoing commission on all funds under management (deducted from the Society's management fee).

Your financial adviser may decide to rebate to you his or her upfront commission. However, your financial adviser is not obliged to do so. Where an upfront commission is rebated, your contribution fee will effectively be waived. Commission is not payable to a member of the Fund.

The Commonwealth legislation known as the Future of Financial Advice (FOFA) legislation, operative from 1 July 2013, does not apply to restrict the Society from making payments to its distributors or licensed / authorised financial advisers, due to the Bond not being categorised as a financial product subject to the legislation.

Taxation and Pension information

The taxation and pension information that follows is current at the date of issue of this document and is intended to be of a general nature only. The information may change from time to time. You should seek professional advice concerning your personal circumstances.

Taxation

The following summarises the tax position of an investment in a Bendigo Funeral Bond on or after 1 January 2003.

It is important to note that annual bonuses allocated are not subject to personal taxation while the Bond continues to be held and before the year of death and payout. Instead, the investment earnings of the Fund are subject to corporate taxation at a rate of 30%. This is paid by the Society as a Fund expense prior to the allocation of annual bonuses to your Bond.

While annual bonuses declared will be net of the tax paid by the Society, the tax deducted from your bonuses is expected to be recovered and paid to your estate or funeral director as applicable in the termination bonus. Total bonuses paid will therefore be effectively untaxed.

Benefits received by your estate (excluding the amount you have contributed) will be subject to tax in the hands of your estate - but only in the year those benefits are paid and then only if entitlement to Bond proceeds have not been assigned to a funeral director. Whether any actual tax is payable by your estate will depend upon your estate's taxable income in that year and its relevant marginal tax rate.

If a funeral director is entitled to Bond proceeds as a result of an assignment, the funeral director will be taxed (instead of your estate) on the full amount of the proceeds in the year of payment.

Qualifying funeral policies

For tax purposes, a funeral bond must be issued for the purpose of meeting a person's future funeral expenses and the amount contributed must be reasonably in line with the expected cost of those expenses. Subject to those requirements, the social security threshold limit (refer "Valuable pension exemptions") is not relevant, and should only concern a person who receives a means-tested pension or benefit from Centrelink or the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Where the entitlement to Bond proceeds has been assigned to a funeral director in consideration for purchasing a pre-paid funeral (from a funeral director), the tax purpose test is automatically met.

Goods and services tax ("GST")

GST does not apply to investments made into the Bendigo Funeral Bond or to benefits paid upon death. However, if you enter into a pre-paid funeral contract, it is suggested you seek professional advice regarding the impact of GST.

Valuable pension exemptions

The Bond is designed to help you qualify for both income and asset test exemptions, if you receive a means-tested pension or benefit from Centrelink or the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

If you assign ownership of the Bond to a funeral director, in consideration for purchasing a pre-paid funeral, there is no limit to the amount that you, as a Bond owner may invest. Notwithstanding the assignment of your Bond, you remain a Fund and Society member.

Where the Bond does not involve a pre-paid funeral, the qualifying pension exemption rules include the following:

- the Bond must be acquired for the purpose of meeting your future funeral expenses and Bond proceeds cannot be withdrawn prior to the time of your death;
- total contributions must not exceed the exemption threshold of $12,000 for the 2014/15 financial year (indexed effective 1 July each year); and
- no exemption threshold will apply if a person has separately planned to fund their funeral by entering into a pre-paid funeral arrangement - because the exemption will then only apply to the amount paid towards the pre-paid funeral.

For up to date information about the exemption threshold, please refer to our website www.australianfriendlysociety.com.au

For further information regarding your own personal circumstances, we recommend that you contact the Financial Information Service of Centrelink or the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Additional information

Supervision and corporate governance

Under existing legislation, all matters relating to disclosure and consumer protection, incorporation and corporate governance of Friendly Societies are regulated by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission. Prudential supervision is conducted by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority.

Under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), Australian Friendly Society has elected to be registered as a public company limited by guarantee.

Members of the Society (including members who hold a Bendigo Funeral Bond) are taken to have given a guarantee. Broadly, the guarantee provides for the maximum amount that a member can be required to contribute in the event the Society is wound up and the assets of the Society are insufficient to pay its creditors and the costs of winding up. The amount of the guarantee is set out in the Society's Constitution and does not exceed $2.

Other than in relation to the guarantee, no member is under any personal liability to creditors as a member of the Society.

Members' rights and interests under the Bond

Your contribution legally becomes part of the Fund offered by Australian Friendly Society, the sole purpose of which is to make provision for bona fide funeral expenses for members.

The assets and liabilities of the Fund are kept separate and distinct from those of other funds of the Society and Sandhurst Trustees, Bendigo and Adelaide Bank or any other entity in the Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Group. No member has any entitlement to the assets or benefits of any benefit fund other than those to which contributions have been paid. Members have an entitlement to share in the Fund, being the proportion that the Bond owner's accumulation account balance on the relevant date bears to the aggregate of the accumulation account balances of all Bond owners who have entitlements in relation to the Fund, but do not have any specific interest in any part of the Fund or any authorised investment thereof.

Upon acceptance by the Society of your application, you become a member of the Society and as such, are subject to the rights and obligations set out in the Constitution as registered from time to time, including the right to attend and vote at General Meetings. This Constitution operates as a contract between members, between each member and the Society and between the Society and each Director and the Secretary.

This Disclosure Document does not relate to, nor are there, different classes of interest in the Fund. Bond owners will have differing entitlements to Bond benefits depending on the level of their contributions, bonus entitlements, length of membership in the Fund and whether the Bonds were issued before or after 1 January 2003.

The Society's Constitution, including the Fund Rules, the administration agreement with Sandhurst Trustees and experts' advice and consents referred to in this Disclosure Document, may be inspected during normal hours of business at the Society's office at The Bendigo Centre, Bendigo Vic 3550.

Capital guarantee

The Bond's capital guarantee is supported by any solvency and capital requirements reserves that Australian Friendly Society must maintain in accordance with regulation. These reserves are designed to protect investors' investment assets from adverse fluctuations in underlying values.

The nature of the underlying investments reinforces the integrity of the capital guarantee. The Fund Rules provide for the guaranteed payment of the original and additional contributions, less specified management charges, plus bonuses declared. That is, your initial and subsequent net contributions, plus declared bonuses, are guaranteed upon your death.

Communication with members

When your application is accepted, you will receive a welcome letter confirming your initial contribution. Included with your welcome letter will be your Certificate of Membership.

You will also receive:

- confirmation of your investment transactions each time you make additional contributions (unless under the regular savings plan);
- an annual statement detailing the bonus rate allocated to your Bond and the value of your Bond as at 30 June (generally sent during the month of September); and
- if you so elect, an annual report detailing Fund performance, including financial statements.

If you have assigned your Bond to a funeral director, these documents will be sent to them, apart from the annual report which you are still entitled to receive as a member of the Society.

If your personal details change (for example, change of address), you should inform us in writing signed by you as the member or your legal personal representative, quoting your Member Number.
